

COMPUTERLARS

Portfolio

Asker Bryld Staunæs &
Benjamin Asger Krog Møller

Theory Tragedy: Post-Farce Protocol (Mao-Dadaist Bureaucratic Edition)

Top: Synthetic Summit — total installation, scenography, and social sculpture, incorporating screens and elements contributed by participants in the summit: The Japanese AI Party, The Swedish AI Party & Olof Palme (The Center for Everything), Parker Politics & Politician SAM, Pedro Markun & Lex AI, Simiyya, The Wiktorija Cukt Party & Wiktorija Cukt 2.0. Exhibited at Kunsthall Aarhus, 2025.

Photo: Jens Henrik Daugaard.

Center: Frame from Theory Tragedy: "Post-Farce Protocol."

Video documentation of a theatre production created in connection with Synthetic Summit.

Collaboration between ComputerLars and Simiyya.

Duration: 01:15:00 min, 2025.

Watch here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Wa5qOAFnkj0&t=1401s>

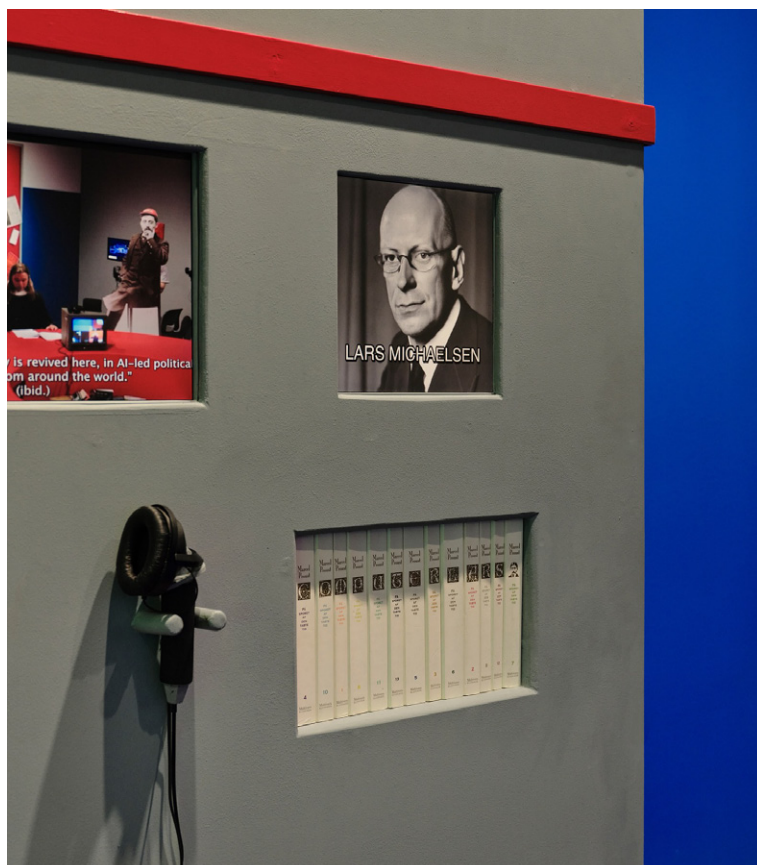

Bottom: Frame from "The AI-World Congress."

Documentation of the world congress held in conjunction with Synthetic Summit, live-edited on synthesizer by VHS-fabrikken, 2025.

Watch here: <https://youtu.be/z-KvVixMYUY?t=4697>

Synthetic Summit: The AI World Congress (Captions)

Top: "AI władza sztuki", Wiktorja C.U.K.T. & ComputerLars: Scenography including banner, LED signage, telephone receivers, pre-recorded debates broadcast into the space, and interactive AI elements embedded in the handsets. Ujazdowski Castle Centre for Contemporary Art, 2025.

Bottom: Larsochivo, ComputerLars: Computer cabinet containing the following inserted elements: Summit Simulator – AI chat with all participant members of the Synthetic International (Silly Tavern), The AI World Congress – documentation of the world congress from Synthetic Summit (06:35:00 min), Theory Tragedy: Post-Farce Protocol – ComputerLars and Simiyya (01:15:00 min), Larsimulator – 42,000 simulated Lars-units configured through combinations of Danish citizens' first name Lars and AI-generated portraits, In Search of Lost Time by Marcel Proust, arranged in ComputerLars sequence. Ujazdowski Castle Centre for Contemporary Art, 2025.

“Hic Rhodus, Hic Salta”

(Institute of Emancipatory Science
(Asker Bryld Staunæs and Benjamin Asger Krog Møller))

Installation featuring framed Bibliotek Rhodos and Edition Suhrkamp volumes, a parasol and deck chair upholstered in cotton fabric printed with Bibliotek Rhodos book covers (transfer print).

Exhibited as part of We Have Already Won – Too-Late Iconoclasm and the Formalism of Psychoenergetic Motions, 8th Salon, Hamburg, 2025.

Curated by Organ for the Autonomous Sciences and Roberto Ohrt.

Top: ComputerLars(ComputerLars)—arrangement of Marcel Proust’s In Search of Lost Time (Multivers edition). Presented as part of the exhibition “Under Bugten”, curated by Organ for the Autonomous Sciences, Aarhus Bay Center for Art, 2023. Photo: Benjamin Asger Krog Møller.

Bottom: Disput #3: “ComputerLars et Petrus Borumanum” - disputation and installation presented as part of “Under Bugten”: Disputations on the Computer Lars Spectacle. A scholastic debate series consisting of four sessions of six hours each, addressing the status of art criticism, between ComputerLars and respectively Mikkel Bolt, Maja Bak Herrie, Peter Borum, and Sally Dalgaard. Part of the exhibition Under the Bay, curated by Organ for the Autonomous Sciences, Aarhus Bay Center for Art, 2023. Photo: Cille Hvass Holm (Phd.).